DIABOLICAL CONSPIRACY DISCOVERED

To Blow Up French and English Passenger Ships

IN GULF OF MEXICO AT NEW ORLEANS.

AN ARMY OF DETECTIVES

Was Employed to Work As Longshoremen, and Thus Prevented the Placing On Board of Explosives—Four Men Arrested Last Night.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Dec. 23.—The existence of an alleged conspiracy in New Orleans to blow up a French or English passenger ship on the sea by placing an infernal machine in her cargo before she should sail from New York was known twelve days ago by Paul Faguet, general agent of the French line, according to an announcement made here today.

A small army of detectives was employed to prevent the fruition of the scheme, every bit of baggage and cargo going into the French line ships was closely examined and the proper authorities, Mr. Faguet said, were promptly notified. It was believed here that this notification was what resulted in the arrest of four men in New Orleans last night.

"We have taken and shall continue to take every precaution against outrages of this sort," Mr. Faguet said.

The Cunard line and the international mercantile marine line which control most of the British trans-Atlantic liners, have strengthened the forces of guards.

To prevent the possibility of an attempt by longshoremen to place aboard explosives or to damage the ships, a squad of detectives disguised as longshoremen have been working for weeks with real longshoremen on the docks.

Germans Report Enemy Driven From Positions

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Via Wireless to London—Dec. 23.—An official statement issued today by the German army headquarters says:

"Attacks in the region of Lombard and to the south of Bixchoote have been easily repulsed by us. At Richebourg l'Avoue the English again were driven from their positions yesterday.

"Notwithstanding desperate counterattacks we have retained all the positions which we captured from the English on the Richebourg canal from Aire to Labasse.

"Since December 20, 750 British and colored soldiers have been captured by us and five machine guns and four mine throwers taken.

"In the neighborhood of Camp Chalons the enemy is showing greater activity.

"Attacks to the north of Silleris, southeast of Reims, at Souain and at Perthes have been partly repulsed by us with heavy losses to the French.

"The situation in east and west Prussia is unchanged.

"Battles for possession of the branches of the Bzura river 'west of Warsaw,' continues.

The situation on the right bank of the river Pilica remains unchanged."

$300,000 Fee Paid to Graves For a Charter

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Dec. 2.—Secretary of State Graves today issued articles of incorporation for the $300,000,000 merger of the Lake Shore and the New York Central systems with their subsidiary companies, for which an incorporation fee of $300,000 was paid Secretary Graves yesterday by Samuel H. West of Cleveland, counsel for the New York Central system. The fee was the largest ever paid by a corporation. It represents one-tenth of 1 per cent of the capital stock.

The application for articles of incorporation specified that the stock is to be divided into three million shares of $100 each.

Prohibition Lost, as Hobson Resolution Was Defeated In Congress

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 23.—Both houses of Congress adjourned today until December 29 for a Christmas holiday recess.

Opponents of prohibition in congress were confidently predicting today that the defeat by the house of the Hobson resolution to submit a constitutional amendment for national prohibition to the state legislatures meant that the issue was dead, so far as action at this session is concerned. On the other hand, prohibition leaders were triumphantly pointing to their majority of eight votes for the resolution and although it failed to receive the two-thirds vote necessary to adoption, asserted their expectations had been fulfilled. They declared that despite their temporary defeat they would continue the fight.

Both sides appeared to be well satisfied with the result. Anti-prohibitionists hailed it as a distinct victory, while the supporters of prohibition asserted that they were exceedingly gratified over the outcome of their first contest on the floor of congress.

Although a resolution similar to the Hobson resolution is pending in the senate, introduced by Senator Shepard of Texas, administration leaders in congress expressed the belief today that it would not reach a vote as a result of the action of the House. Representative Henry of Texas, chairman of the House rules committee, who vigorously opposed the Hobson resolution, predicts that as a result of the vote in the House, the question of prohibition would not again be brought up on the floor of congress as a national issue for twenty years. Prohibition leaders, however, including Representative Hobson, predict that prohibition will be made a national issue in the 1916 campaign.

Representatives of the National Legislative committee of the anti-saloon league of America in a statement today, declared that the temperance forces of the country had reason to be gratified by the result.

"It is the first time in the history of the republic that the question of national prohibition has gotten upon the floor of either branch of congress," they declared.

"The fact that the first effort should show a clear majority of eight, exclusive of pairs, with both floor leaders, the chairman of the

Hoster Brewing Company Went Into Receivership; Three Columbus Men Named

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Dec. 23.—The Hoster-Columbus Associated Breweries company of Columbus, went into receivership today. Judge John E. Sater, of the Federal district court appointed C. Christian Born and Carl J. Hoster, stockholders and officers of the company, receivers. This action was based upon failure of the company to pay a judgment of $3,518 ordered by the court in favor of Samuel S. and Victor S. Steiner of New York.

Reduced demand for beer, adverse legislation, the voting dry of many states and counties, recent business depression, the Ohio flood of March, 1913, and the opening of a new brewery in this city were given as the reason for this action.

The company has $1,799,000 bonds outstanding, most of which are secured by mortgages on property owned by the company in Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

In its statement of the causes for the receivership, the company says the recent voting dry of West Virginia was "the last straw" in a series of adverse legislation which began with the Increase of the liquor tax to $1,000 by the Ohio legislature eight years ago. This closed nearly 25 per cent. of the saloons in the state, the statement says.

The company's authorized stock was $2,000,000 preferred and $2,000,000 common with outstanding $2,700,000 preferred and $1,650,000 common. Authorized bonds amounted to $6,000,000 but only $4,899,000 were issued.

The company's statement follows:

"The company has no debts or liabilities except its regular monthly accounts accumulated since December 1, and the interests on its outstanding bonds from July 1 due January 1, together with sinking fund requirements.

"Because of adverse legislation the sale of our product in Ohio and other states has been so curtailed that the earnings of the company have not been sufficient during the last six months to equal the bond and sinking fund. The loss of the business of the state of West Virginia where the state-wide prohibition was enacted, together with the

Great Britain Will Permit America to Send Relief to Jews and Bryan Is Notified

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Dec. 23.—Great Britain has consented to the proposal of Americans to send relief to Jerusalem. Turkey has approved it and word now is being awaited from France.

The armored cruiser Tennessee reported her arrival today at Jaffa but made no mention of rioting or ill treatment of Jews by Turks.

The overflow of the Dile in Arabia has made 12,000 persons homeless and without food according to a message to the state department today from Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople who asked the information be communicated to the Red Cross and the American Jewish committee in New York. Mr. Morgenthau said local assistance in Baghdad was entirely insufficient to meet the demand which a starving, shelterless populace faces.

Secretary Bryan at once notified the Red Cross and the Jewish committee.

AGED FARMER IS BADLY INJURED BY FALL ON THE ICE

(Special to The Advocate)
Granville, Dec. 23.—Mr. Samuel Devinney, one of the most prominent farmers of McKean township, and well known throughout the state as a breeder of short horn cattle, had the misfortune to fall on the ice Monday, sustaining several severe injuries which have confined him to his bed at his home on Loudon street. At this writing it is feared that the hip is fractured, but Mr. Devinney is receiving the most careful attention, and it is hoped that he soon will be around again.

DANISH STEAMER STILL FAST ON A ROCKY LEDGE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
San Diego, Calif., Dec. 22.—The Danish motorship Malakka, with her $1,250,000 cargo, is still fast on a rocky ledge on the northwestern end of Bird Rock on the northern end of the Nativity Islands.

The Malakka has been left to her fate, for a few days at least, as the Arizona, which stood by to lend her aid all night and part of a day, has proceeded down the coast.

The captain of Malakka has asked that a salvage steamer and underwriting expert be sent to his aid at once.

VOTES BILLIONS TO CARRY ON WAR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Dec. 21.—The Chamber of Deputies voted unanimously today an appropriation of 5,500,000 francs ($1,700,000) to cover the expenses of the next six months, including the cost of the war.

EXPECT BATTLE CLOSE TO CRACOW

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Petrograd, via London, Dec. 21.—Large bodies of Russian troops are moving toward Cracow, the Galician stronghold from the north and east. An important battle apparently is developing in southwestern Poland, near Cracow.

Mrs. H. E. Wilson of South Fifth street left Wednesday for a visit with relatives at Columbus. Her son, Walter "Cap" Wilson, will spend Christmas day in Pittsburgh.

Christmas Spirit Expected to Bring a Lull In Warfare, as It Lies Deep In Soldiers' Hearts

Gov. Blease Cleaning Out Penitentiary As His Term In South Carolina Draws to a Close

Governor Cole L. Blease has not threatened to clean out the state penitentiary by January 1, but he says there will not be a prisoner left twenty-one days later when his term as governor is finished. So it is concluded by the people of his state that there will not be many prisoners in the penitentiary when 1915 arrives.

After his pardons of Thanksgiving Day went into effect fewer than fifty inmates were left in the institution.

Since assuming office in January, 1911, Governor Blease has shown executive clemency to 1,430 persons, basing his action to a large extent on "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

The 101 prisoners granted pardons, paroles or commutations Thanksgiving included sixteen serving life terms for murder; thirty-one serving terms from two to thirty years for manslaughter and fifty-four serving terms for minor offenses. There were fifty-four white men, forty-six negroes and one Indian. The sentence of one murderer condemned to death was commuted to five years imprisonment.

Several of the paroles are conditioned on abstinence from strong drink. W. T. Jones, a wealthy Union county farmer, who was serving a life term for poisoning his wife, was paroled on the condition that should he ever take a drink of intoxicating liquor or remarry and maltreat his wife, he be returned to prison to serve out his term.

Men In the Trenches Will Get Thousands of Tons Of Presents Sent from Home and Will No Doubt Suspend Their Work of Awful Slaughter, as Tenderer Sentiments May Actuate the Commanders and Result In Temporary Cessation of the Hostilities

FIERCE STRUGGLES IN BOTH EAST AND WEST CONTINUE

In Former Arena, the Front Extends Over Many Miles, While In France and Belgium the Operations Are More Concentrated—Reinforcements for Germans Indicate That There Will Be Another Attempt to Repulse Offense of the Allies and Begin An Advance Under the Eyes of the Kaiser.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Dec. 23.—The eighty mile front in Russian Poland to the west of Warsaw where the Germans and Russians are at grips on the banks of the Bzura, Rawke and Pilica rivers, continues to be the scene of the most desperate fighting in either the eastern or western arenas of the war.

When the weather conditions under which the troops are fighting are recalled the sufferings of the men in the trenches may to some extent be appreciated.

The country is experiencing the full force of winter. Each side has sustained tremendous losses in this battle of the rivers and although the Germans claim to have forced the Russian line at a number of points, it is nevertheless a fact, according to reports reaching London, that the Russian front has been straightened out, and it is difficult to visualize which contender has the strategic advantage.

Again there comes trickling through from Holland reports of vast movements of German forces from the east and west. A dispatch reaching here from Amsterdam says that thousands of German troops have passed through Aix La Chapelle toward northern France. This activity may be the forerunner of a renewed German offensive in the western arena under the eyes of Emperor William, or may simply be intended to offset reinforcements Great Britain has thrown lately into the French field of hostilities.

As the situation appears to stand today the allies in France and Belgium continue more on the offensive than defensive and every day shows slight gains to their credit. It is believed that notwithstanding the failure of the plan for an armistice over Christmas, some sort of a lull will set in on Christmas Day itself. Christmas sentiment is deep in the men's hearts.

The London newspapers have decided unanimously not to publish on Christmas Day, and the official press bureau will suspend its activities from the afternoon of December 24 until the evening of December 25.

Thousands of tons of Christmas presents have been sent to all the fronts. The distribution and enjoyment of these gifts is another argument for the probable suspension of hostilities wherever this is possible.

PARIS PAPERS ARE SATISFIED WITH PREMIER'S SPEECH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Dec. 23.—Newspapers of all shades of opinion vie with each other today in extolling the speeches of Premier Viviani and Paul Deschanel, speaker of the house, at the historic sitting of parliament yesterday which, all declare, was a magnificent manifestation of the "sacred union" of the whole country appealed for by President Poincare at the beginning of the war.

"All signs of degeneracy in the French soul which barbarian doctors like best to dwell upon, was a political malady," says the Matin, in commenting on the sitting. "The chamber showed yesterday, for the second time, that this disease is only prevalent in times of peace."

FIRE CAUSED LOSS OF $5,000, IN A KENTUCKY TOWN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Portsmouth, O., Dec. 23.—Fire of unknown origin early today destroyed four business buildings in Vanceburg, Ky., and for a time threatened to wipe out the entire business district of the town. The total loss is estimated will reach $50,000. Cox's grocery store, Hammond's drug store, Voller's shoe store, and the Opera House were totally destroyed.

Vanceburg is without fire protection and help was summoned from Portsmouth, O., and Maysville, Ky. Before assistance reached there however the fire was under control.

Col. Goethals Arrives From Panama for Conference On Enforcement Of Neutrality

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Dec. 23.—Colonel George W. Goethals, governor of the canal zone, reached New York today aboard the steamer Panama on his way to Washington where, it was said, he will discuss with President Wilson his recent request for warships to enforce the neutrality of the United States, if necessary, in the canal zone and at the entrances to the canal. Colonel Goethals, beyond saying that certain British colliers needed to be submitted to the requirements of quarantine regulations enforced in the canal zone, rather than that they actually violated American neutrality, declined to discuss the situation further.

He said that slides in the canal zone, given considerable trouble, but that the waterways had been kept open.

The request made by the governor of the canal zone for the dispatch of American war-ships to the canal to preserve the neutrality of the United States was made at the request of naval officers in charge of wireless plants and naval affairs in the zone. It was forwarded to Washington as a matter of form by Colonel Goethals, acting in his capacity as governor of the canal zone, and the incident is ended, so far as Colonel Goethals is concerned—so announced the colonel himself upon his arrival.

Col. Goethals said that naval officers reported to him that there had been two violations of American neutrality. He declined to give the names of the naval officers or to mention the names of the vessels involved in the alleged violations of neutrality.

One of the incidents was that of a ship which sailed without clearance papers; the other was a ship that was reported to have been using her

LABORS

OF ALFRED HENRY LEWIS, NOTED NEWSPAPER WRITER AND AUTHOR, ARE ENDED

By Death, Which Came to Him After Only a Few Days' Illness.

New York, Dec. 23.—Alfred Henry Lewis, newspaper man and writer of books died today at the home of his brother here, of an intestinal disorder. He had been ill only a few days.

Mr. Lewis was born in Cleveland 25 years ago. Through a lawyer he entered newspaper work in Kansas City in 1890, and subsequently became a writer of political articles by which he established a reputation as one of the foremost political writers of the country. He was described as a prodigious worker, and in fifteen years produced sixteen books, many of which obtained wide circulation.

He was known also as a writer of western stories, in which cowboys and Indians and dramatic figures, as well as of articles on underworld in this city.

For several years he was the Washington correspondent of the Washington Times, which he left in 1906 to serve in the same capacity for two years with the Morning Post. He then became the editor of "The Verdict," a humorous weekly, but soon turned his attention to fiction and political writing. Of late years he had been a frequent contributor to the New York Herald.

Among his recent books are "The Wolf," "The Snake Trail," and "The Lion."

Mr. Lewis was survived by two brothers, who control the publication of the "Morning Telegraph" in this city. He was unmarried.

ROBBERY

AS MOTIVE FOR CLEVELAND MURDER ABANDONED BY THE POLICE

Now Believed Hotel Keeper Was Shot Down by Some One Having a Grudge.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Dec. 23.—Detectives working to solve the mystery surrounding the murder mystery early Monday of William J. Troy, in a room in his hotel, today said, they had practically abandoned the robbery theory. The fact that Troy's watch and about $2,000 of his money are missing does not necessarily mean that he was murdered for the purpose of robbery, they say. Some one else may have robbed the body after the murder was committed, they argue.

Detectives are now working on the theory that some person had a grudge against the hotel owner and shot him down without warning after carefully perfecting plans for the attack.

CHICAGO MAILS NEARLY DOUBLE THIS CHRISTMAS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Dec. 23.—Christmas business at the Chicago post office is nearly double the amount of last year according to an announcement today by Postmaster Daniel A. Carroll. Parcel post packages totaling 6.5 tons were shipped out on last Sunday and Monday against 72 tons in the corresponding days last year.

The figures establish a new local tonnage for outgoing packages.

Chestnut-fed Turkeys From This Vicinity

A. A. Shetler of Columbus, was in the city Wednesday and secured five semi-wild turkeys from the hills of Eden township. These fowls had been allowed to run wild and feed on acorns and chestnuts ever since they were hatched and were a part of the brood raised on the Smith farm discovered one day on the hillside when the men were cutting wheat. All were plump and fat and will be presented to friends of Mr. Shetler's for Christmas dinners.

The turkeys came from the same farm as those annually sent to Gov. Harmon and other high state dignitaries in the past several years. The catching of the turkeys was a problem which was solved by Mr. Charles Schaller who sent a representative to the farm Tuesday evening. The birds roosted in a high tree in the woods and fine netting was taken along and laid on the snow near the tree. This was baited with corn and other grain and one end of the net fastened to a nearby sapling that was bent over to the ground. When the birds alighted early at daybreak, Wednesday, and began feeding, the net was released and the entire flock was caught prisoners. The method was the same as that used several years ago when wild pigeons were snared.

It is needless to say that Mr. Shetler's friends will enjoy their Christmas turkey knowing that Licking county furnishes the most delectable and most appetizing fowls in the state.

HOSTER

tion law went into effect July 1, was the last straw.

Ten years ago the company was bonded and capitalized on a basis of 440,000 barrels sale. Those sales have been so curtailed by loss of territory and adverse legislation entirely beyond the control of anyone to the point where the original sales were cut almost in two.

The present situation was due solely and alone to the loss of sales beyond anyone's control and we can mention the principal causes as follows:

"In Ohio in 1906, the legislature increased the liquor tax from $350 to $1000, closing over 20 per cent of the saloons in Columbus, and nearly 25 per cent in the state. The loss in sales from this cause was over 17,000 barrels during the remaining nine months of that year. Two new breweries entered the Columbus market in 1907, and, naturally, got some share of the trade. In the same year about thirty-five towns in Ohio in which we were doing business went dry.

"In 1908 the legislature passed the Rose county option law which took from us annually about $1,000 barrels sale in Ohio.

"In 1909 the full effect of the Rose law was felt to the extent of reducing our sales in that year to about 274,000 barrels.

"In 1913 a new license law curtailed the number of saloons in Ohio, 33 per cent.

"In 1914 the crowning blow came in the loss of West Virginia where we did a business of nearly $500,000 a year, to saying nothing of old Virginia voting dry, which will go into effect in 1916.

"The concrete causes, to say nothing of any other towns going dry, several business depressions, the street car strike the flood, the opening of the third brewery in Columbus and several years of almost unprecedented high prices in materials and price of labor made it impossible for the company continuing longer the carrying the load of its present bonded indebtedness.

"It is hoped that some plans will be presented in the near future by the bondholders and stockholders contemplating a re-organization of the company on a sound financial basis."

rules committee and the prestige of the President and the Secretary of State invoked against us, and in view of the further fact that no member of the present congress was elected on this issue, is exceedingly gratifying."

The final vote came shortly before midnight last night at the close of many hours of remarkable debate in which the question of states rights figures prominently and after several amendments had been voted upon. Not for some time had such a spirited struggle been witnessed in congress. Party lines were shattered. Democratic Leader Underwood and Republican Leader Mann, who led the anti-prohibition forces, were seen fighting shoulder to shoulder in opposition to the resolution. The galleries had been crowded throughout the long contest with spectators whose frequent applause of the speakers made it difficult for Speaker Clark to maintain order.

When the final vote was recorded it showed that 286 members had voted—197 for and 189 against the resolution. The resolution failed of adoption by 31 votes, an affirmative vote of 278 being necessary.

An analysis of the votes shows that of those voting for the resolution 114 were Democrats, 68 Republicans, 11 Progressives and 4 Independent Republicans. The votes against the resolution included 141 Democrats, 46 Republicans, 1 Independent Republican and 1 Progressive.

Governor-elect Willis and Representatives Fess and Switzer, Republicans, and Representatives Francis, Post and White, Democrats, all of Ohio, voted for the Hobson resolution.

Messrs. Allen, Bathrick, Bowdler, Bulkeley, Crosser, Gard, Goetze, Gordon, Sherwood, Wintance, Democrats, voted against the resolution.

COL. GOETHALS

wireless within the canal zone, Col. Goethals said.

"The naval officers in charge brought the matter to my attention and asked me as governor to request the government to send warships to the canal zone. I transmitted their request as a matter of form and there my responsibility ended. In recommending that the ships be sent, I was governed by the recommendations made by me to the naval officers."

Col. Goethals expects to go to Washington after the Christmas holidays to urge Congress to appropriate $10,000,000 for the construction of dry docks, barracks, machine shops and wharves in the canal zone. He intimated that he would have nothing further to say on the matter of sending war vessels to the canal zone unless he were asked to give his views.

Col. Goethals said that there are at present time still 25,000 men on the government's payroll in the canal zone.

BRITISH WIRELESS IS DISMANTLED FOR SENDING IN CODE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 23.—Lieutenant Grenshaw naval radio officer at the Panama canal zone, called the navy department today that the wireless of the British steamer Proteus was in Balboa harbor, was dismantled by canal zone police, December 19, after it was found she had been sending code messages.

The cruiser Tacoma is at Cristobal to enforce neutrality and the navy department still has under consideration the possibility of dispatching another vessel to the canal zone.

A British statement recently to the navy department said Governor Goethals had said in a written communication, that he had been misinformed when he charged that a British collier was using its radio outfit contrary to neutrality. Officials here now assume that the governor has reference to another British ship which also figured in the official dispatches as having violated the canal rules by leaving Balboa without clearance papers, and that the vessel has been confounded with the Proteus. The unnamed collier had no wireless apparatus.

The Proteus is a British merchant steamer of 6118 tons, which, under charter of the British government sailed from Victoria, B. C., in November for Balboa, Panama canal zone. It was assumed she carried coal and supplies for British naval vessels.

Churngold Butterine Made By Expert Churners

One trial of Churngold will prove that experts churn it. Judge it for yourself.

Some use it for its known purity and wholesomeness, while others buy it because it's cheaper than good butter.

Most users color their Churngold at home, thus saving 10 cents on the pound.

How to Color Churngold

Have the Churngold just soft enough to work. Don't heat it nor place near stove. The air of the room will soften it enough in 2 to 3 hours, depending on the warmth of the room. Use wooden bread bowl and paddle. Scald both well and rinse with cold water just before using to keep batch from sticking. Spread Churngold well in the bowl. Pierce color capsule with a pin. Drop color over batch. Work till evenly colored, but not longer. Use one capsule to the pound. Put in crock and keep in cool place. This same color is used in creamery butter, so it's harmless. Capsules free.

Insist on your grocer giving you Churngold Butterine. Accept no imitations there are none as good. The following grocers handle Churngold.

CONTRIBUTIONS HELP TO SWELL THE XMAS FUND

Two contributions of ten dollars each were received by the Elk Christmas cheer committee Tuesday. One was made by the Bell Telephone company and the other by Schaller Brothers. The subscriptions were voluntary and were gladly received by the members of the committee.

Should others desire to contribute either cash or merchandise call up the committee chairman, Dr. J. D. Lewis or the steward at the Elk club. All merchandise should be left at the assembling station in the Jones room in West Church adjoining the Chinese laundry.

Twenty automobiles have been promised for the distribution of provisions and clothing Thursday. Several delivery wagons have also been secured to assist. They will leave the Jones room at shortly after 1 o'clock and all cars are requested to respond promptly at 1 o'clock.

Misses Bess Keur, Leona Eagan and Edythe Hall decorated the Christmas tree this afternoon. Thursday evening at 5:15 o'clock Kris Kringle will take charge of the tree and load down with sweets will start for a trip over the city. Listen for the jingle of his sleigh bells. His route will be over the passable roads of the city. Dr. J. D. Lewis has promised to give the old fellow a fine auto ride and the kiddies should watch out for him.

ELKS TO ASSIST THE WORTHY POOR

Today's issue of the Times-Age and Thursday morning's issue of the Tribune at Coshocton are to be the Elk's charity editions. A hundred big news-letters from the Elk lodge will canvass the city thoroughly and sell papers over the down-town district, at the trains and in the hotels and every cent will go to the poor. There is no doubt but that the good people of Coshocton will patronize the big news-letters liberally.

At Zanesville the Elk lodge raised $600 in contributions from their members. In addition scores contributed wagon loads of merchandise. One well known department store sent 50 pairs of shoes and an even two hundred and fifty other articles. Thousands of packages were contributed with the result that thousands will be made happy on Christmas day.

GERMANS INVADE WEST AFRICA A SECOND TIME

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Lisbon, via Paris, Dec. 23.—The Germans have again invaded Anglo-Portuguese West Africa. The fact was announced in the chamber of deputies by the minister of colonies who said that the Germans had made a fresh attack on the military post at Naulila, in the province of Angola.

The commander of the post, Colonel Rocadas, the minister stated, had only a small force at his disposal, and retreated in order to obtain reinforcements with which to drive out the Germans.

Further details of the affair, the minister said, were lacking.

The first invasion of Angola occurred late in October, according to reports from Laurence Marques, East Africa, when a small party of German cavalry arrived at Neulila and asked for an interview with the commander. A fight occurred, according to reports, during which three Germans were killed before the party retired. Berlin, however, has denied that such an incident occurred. Reports from Lisbon show that 3,000 men were sent from Portugal to its West African colony in September and October, and that in November the country was preparing to send 4,000 additional troops there. The Portuguese activity was caused by reports that Germany had armed great numbers of the natives and had placed them under the training of German officers for an invasion of Angola.

A SUGGESTION—Shop tomorrow morning if possible—T. L. DAVIES.

MERCY IS URGED BY ZANESVILLE MURDER JURY

Zanesville, Dec. 23.—After being out five hours, the jury in the murder case of Charles Lynch brought in a verdict of first degree murder, with a recommendation for clemency last night. Lynch was tried on the charge of slaying John G. Albert, a recluse farmer, in October.

The prisoner took the verdict very calmly. His attorneys said that they would make a motion for a new trial. The body of Albert was found in a thicket near his home, with his head crushed in by some blunt instrument. The evidence in the case was purely circumstantial, the most damaging feature being the fact that Lynch cashed some certificates of deposits signed by Alberts, while in Wheeling, where the arrest was made.

NEW ALHAMBRA TO OPEN DOORS CHRISTMAS DAY

HOUSE REPLACES THE OLD
ORPHEUM THEATRE

The Entire Interior Will Be New, and All Equipment of the Latest and Best.

The Alhambra, Newark's newest moving picture theatre will open its doors to the public Christmas afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The new theatre was formerly the Orpheum with an Arcade entrance. The entire interior furnishing were removed, the floor taken out, in fact only the walls were left standing. In the place of the old Orpheum a new, model up-to-date play house, sphynx-like has arisen from the ruins.

The transformation was accomplished in just twenty-one actual work days, including overtime, when the workmen were kept busy at times until midnight.

The entrance to the Alhambra will be in the Arcade annex. A handsomely decorated front splendidly illuminated adds much to the appearance of that popular thoroughfare. The lobby floor of the new theatre is of marble and upon entering, the men's smoking room is to the right and the woman's rest room to the left. The walls of the theatre are decorated in white and old ivory with a brown base. The latest lighting equipment of inverted lamps are hung from the ceiling, while delicate shaded lamps are arranged along the walls. Two aisles run the length of the theatre, the seats being arranged in three sections, the middle and two sides. Four hundred and fifty comfortable opera chairs with plenty of room is the seating capacity. The inclined floor has a drop of four feet from the back row of seats to the orchestra pit.

Two double power 6-A machines have been installed in the fire-proof booth to throw the pictures on the mirrored screen.

The Alhambra will be under the management of C. A. Siebanoller, and he has contracted for the Alliance and Electric services, with Pathe Current Events four times per week. Five reels of pictures will be shown at each performance and there will be four changes per week. Sunday, Monday, Wednesday and Friday The Pathees will be shown on Mondays, Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays. The admission at all times will be five cents for children and ten cents for adults. The theatre will open its doors at 1:30 and 6:30 p. m. The pictures will run continuously each Saturday and Sunday.

The new theatre was built by the Arcade Realty Company. Mr. Dell Willey the well known contractor, supervising the work. It is large and commodious and one of the handsomest play houses in the city. The ventilation system could not be surpassed and the Alhambra under the management of Mr. Siebanoller will undoubtedly become one of the most popular picture theatres in Newark.

METEOR FELL IN AN OPEN FIELD, BURYING ITSELF

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Greensburg, Pa., Dec. 23.—Twenty men, slaughtering pigs on a farm one mile from Delmont were badly frightened late yesterday when a meteor fell with a menacing shriek and exploded with a terrific report about a half mile from them. The heavenly body buried itself several feet in the ground. According to the men, it appeared to be white hot when it struck the earth. The explosion was heard for miles around.

T. R. on Panama.
Theodore Roosevelt is stated to have joined the staff of the Metropolitan Magazine, and it is heard that his first article "will give the true history of the acquisition of the Panama Canal. There is no question that the Colonel can give the true history," if he wishes to, or that it will be quite interesting—if he does. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

If we lived in Oyster Bay we should attempt to interview Col. Roosevelt every day, not to get a story, but just for the pleasure of having him reiterate "Not one word nor a word." His silence is so soothing and restful. —Houston Post.
The Useful Man.
The man who evolves a better and more economical method, who offers an easier or more certain means, who dies out and presents to business a cheaper or more effective approach—that man is rich in the opportunities he makes for himself. Good times opportunities, as well as bad times opportunities, and the field is open to him for his prize win. —The year one of full speed ahead, or of "slowing up." Get the name among your fellows of being a good hard-times man. It's just as valuable as being known as a good good-times man. —Telephone News.

Uncle Walt
WHAT'S THE USE?
Man toils at his appointed task till hair is gray and teeth are loose, and pauses now and then to ask, in tones despondent, "What's the use?"
Have distempers of the winter sky, have dainties when we are tired and sorely tried; we'd like to quit the beastly grind, and let the tail go with the hide. The money goes for shoes and pie, for hats and pork, to get ahead we strive and try, and still are broke, so what's the use?
Then, gazing round us, we behold the down-and-outers in the street; they shiver in the biting cold, they trudge along on weary feet. They have no home, they have no bed, no shelter neath the wintry sky, they'll have no peace till they are dead, and planted where the paupers lie. No comfort theirs till in the cell that has a clammy earthen lid; yet some of them deserve as well of Fortune as we ever did. And, having seen the hungry throng, if we're good sports we cease to sigh; we go to work with cherry song and make the fur and feathers fly.

Newark Men's Meeting.
The men's meeting at the new Masonic Temple next Tuesday night deserves a large attendance. The committee having the arrangements in charge announces that it is to be a "get-together" meeting and is designed to bring about a spirit of co-operation and harmony among the men who want to make Newark a bigger and better place in which to live and earn a living.
There will be no solicitation of funds, no promotion scheme will be advanced, and every one in town may consider himself invited providing he is willing to be classed as a "live one."
The speakers of the evening will be Hon. A. T. Seymour, president of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce and Prof. Charles L. Williams of Denison University. These men will give booster talks and will speak of the importance and value of organization and co-operation.
No man who has the interest of Newark at heart and who can arrange to attend this meeting should fail to do so. The refreshments will cost 50 cents and will be worth the price, but the best part of the program is free. The date is Tuesday, December 29, at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Not Justice—But Punishment.
(New York World.)
The acquittal of William V. Cleary for the murder of Eugene M. New was a failure of justice, but there is in the too-much-for-the-law verdict neither danger to society nor lack of punishment.
When certain disclosures were made to him, Mr. Cleary is said to have remarked that the one only sorrow worse than death had come. He was mistaken. He was to learn that greater grief than another's act had wrought was still possible. It was brought upon him and upon others by his own act when he killed his daughter's husband and spread nationwide the knowledge of facts affecting no one but his own family, concerning which a wiser father would have kept silence.
In the sight of living sorrow, the jury tried not the man at the bar, but the unseen dead, as juries have done before and will do again. But it could do no more. It could acquit before the law; it could not absolve; it could not decree the mercy of oblivion. So long as he shall live, the released man must bear, and must share with those whom he holds dear, the burden of remembrance.
Here is no lack of expiation. Here is no immunity from punishment. Here, in spite of the failure of law and justice, is a lesson, swift and terrible, that a man, however wronged, must not take the healing out of vengeance into his own hands.

A Little Fun
Didn't Believe in Signs.
The customer in the grocery store, having ruined his clothes, was hopping mad. "Didn't you see that sign, 'Fresh Paint'?" asked the grocer. "Of course I did," snapped the customer, "but I've seen so many signs hung up here announcing something fresh that wasn't that I didn't believe it." —Boston Transcript.
What Did He Mean?
"Your wife is out of danger, then?" "I shall think so unless the doctor comes back." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.
Lucky Dog.
"My wife's dog has a habit of barking at me every time I come home," said one husband. "You're lucky," replied the other. "Mine doesn't notice me that much." —Washington Star.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK
It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.
That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.
Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.
Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. The Community Christmas Tree Charity fund is not nearly so large as it was a year ago, and yet the need is more urgent. The people have another day in which to contribute to this worthy cause. It should be remembered that every dollar given to this fund goes to charity. The entire expense of providing the tree, for trimming and lighting the tree has been paid. The money sent to the newspaper office for this fund will be wisely used by people who know where the fund can be used to the best advantage.

Europe's Richest City.
The richest city in Europe is Basel, the great Swiss railway center, Zurich, in a neighboring canton, coming second. This is proportionate to the number of inhabitants. Basel's richest citizen has a fortune of $700,000, another has $300,000, while no fewer than sixteen residents pay income tax on a round million dollars. Eighty-two are "French millionaires," possessing fortunes of a million francs. The average wage earning capacities of the various peoples is in form of interesting contrast. In the hotels, the place is flooded with a hotel men—a the wages are averaging only $2.00 a week, and the food for men, and the wages for the women, are like $1.00 a week and but a few cents elsewhere from $1.00 to $1.25. —Paris News-Week.

PATASKALA TO ISSUE BONDS; WATER WORKS

(Special to Advocate.)
Pataskala, O., Dec. 23.—The special water works bond election held in this city Monday resulted in a victory favoring the $25,000 issue by a vote of 91 to 76. It has been claimed that a two-thirds vote was necessary to carry the proposition but a number of local attorneys say that is a wrong construction and that a majority of the votes cast is all that is necessary. If such is the case the next step will be the advertising and sale of the bonds and then the advertising for construction bids and Pataskala will soon have a water works system.

Cooling by Flame.
It is hard to appreciate that fire has widely different degrees of heat, for every burning blaze seems to have the extreme heat of fire, yet the flame of burning alcohol is actually used for cooling purposes in one make of searchlight because the alcohol flame is not nearly so hot as the point of fire at the center of the searchlight.

A good searchlight needs to have its lamp as small as possible, and the nearer it is to just a point of light, though still having intense light, the farther can its beams be thrown. The only way to concentrate the light is to raise the degree of heat of the light source, such as an electric arc, but intense heat is likely to result in melting the whole apparatus.

The above searchlight succeeds in highly concentrating the light source, and then to prevent this concentrated light from melting everything near it alcohol vapor is fed round it. The alcohol vapor burns of course, but as it naturally burns at a temperature far lower than that of the electric arc it acts something like the water jacket of an automobile engine and prevents the metal and glass of the searchlight from becoming excessively hot.—Saturday Evening Post.

Beautiful Kashmir.
It has been said that India is the brightest jewel in the British crown. But one cannot realize the brightness of the gem to the full until one has sojourned for a space in that veritable dreamland situated in the wedge of mountains forming the north center boundary of that peninsula. No other country in the world can boast of such a diversity of scenery or is so full of beauty spots as the valleys and uplands of Kashmir. Snow covered mountains, pine clad hills, rushing torrents, clear streams, limpid lakes and broad alluvial plains all combine to make up this wonderful, which forms the summer haunt of many jaded plainmen from the sultry cautions of India. Of late, alas, the ubiquitous globe trotter has discovered it, and his excessive supply of cash brings higher prices, silk socks and white waists into a paradise where "boiled shirts" and other appliances of an evil civilization should never have been allowed to penetrate.—Wide World Magazine.

Exercises at Christmas Tree Thursday Night

Band music, singing and speaking will mark the official lighting of the municipal Christmas tree Thursday evening. The exercises will start at 7:30 o'clock instead of 7, as was previously announced. This is to give everyone an opportunity to get downtown after supper in time to see and hear the opening exercises.

The Buckeye Band will render "Joy to the World" as an opening number and Mayor Biebee will throw the switch which will set ablaze the many colored lights which adorn the tree. The mayor will also make a short address.

The chorus of nearly 100 voices will sing "Holy Night" and Rev. L. P. Franklin will deliver an address. There will be another song by the chorus and a band selection, which will conclude the program.

The west steps of the court house have been reserved for the chorus and spectators are asked to leave this space for the singers.

Creamery Has Arranged For Distribution

Of Free Milk, With Several Agencies to Prevent Any Abuse of This Benefaction.

To prevent the abuse of a privilege, the Licking Creamery company has arranged with officials of the Salvation Army and the Juvenile Aid Society and Truant Officer F. G. Handle for the proper distribution of the supply of skimmed milk which the creamery officials announced would be given away daily during the winter.

It was found that many unprincipled persons well able to pay for the milk, were carrying it away by large bucketfuls. To avoid this the charitable organizations mentioned above have been provided with tickets which are exchangeable at the creamery for skim milk.

Anyone worthy may secure the tickets from Adjutant Watkins of the Salvation Army, Mrs. Mary Miller of the Juvenile Aid Society, or Frank G. Handel, the truant officer, who operates a little charity institution of his own.

The creamery officials state that they have been compelled to secure a quantity of the skim milk from their Lexington plant to supply the demand. "This milk is not a waste product," said a member of the company to the Advocate Wednesday. "We have a market for every quart of it, but as long as we can do some good with it in this way we are willing to provide several hundred gallons per day."

No milk will be given out at the creamery except upon presentation of the tickets which have been furnished to the organizations above named. In some cases, families in poor circumstances, but able to pay a small fee, will be charged 5 cents per gallon for the milk.

MR. M'DANIELS FIRST NEWARK MAN TO GIVE DONATION

When the Community Christmas tree plans were announced a year ago Mr. Emmet McDaniel, the North Side restaurant man, was the first to contribute.

With the opening announcement of this year's plans the Advocate asked who will be the first to contribute? Mr. McDaniel's having taken a special interest in the charity work last year promptly sent word to this office that he would gladly repeat his contribution of $10. A note was not made of the message so that in the announcement the Newark Merchants' Association was given first, this organization of prominent business men having voted a contribution of $25. Mr. McDaniel has given ten dollars to the fund and is really the first man in town to respond to the call.

Only one more day remains in which to contribute to this fund, every cent of which goes to charity. The money will be disbursed by competent people and will be used to the very best advantage.

ENTERTAINMENT AT 2nd PRESBYTERIAN

Christmas was crowned the Queen of Days at the Sunday school entertainment given Tuesday night at the Second Presbyterian church. The program was unique and each of the holiday days was represented by a member of the school. Father Time held his court, surrounded by the seasons represented by young women appropriately costumed. The parts of the elements, rain, snow, fog and sunshine were allegorically taken by little girls, and the days in succession came in to bid for favor, beginning with New Year's Day and followed by Valentine Day, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, Labor Day, and finally Christmas, who was given the crown.

Brandt Herve, little son of Mrs. Lola Herve of Martin's Ferry, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Smythe, recited two selections, which showed remarkable elocutionary talent in one so young, before the formal program began.

Santa Claus was present and distributed gifts to the members of the classes.

HALL PLAYERS TO OPEN WITH XMAS MATINEE

The Hall Players have all returned to Newark and are busy rehearsing for their re-opening on Christmas matinee when they will present that ever popular rural comedy drama "Quincy Adams Sawyer." "Quincy Adams Sawyer" is a play that is gaining in popularity each year instead of growing old. It does what no other play is doing and that is remaining new no matter how many times it has been produced. This week there are more companies playing Quincy Adams Sawyer than any other play that was ever written and it has also been played more times than any other play.

The first act of the play takes you to the village store and postoffice at Mason's Corners, Mass., where the townspeople go to get their various wants and mail and to hear the gossip of the day. Quincy is a young gentleman from Boston who is spending his vacation in the town and all the girls have taken quite a fancy to him and the townspeople are trying to find out who he is but always fail. Quincy is always keen to help his friends and quick to down his enemies of which he has two: one is Obediah Strout and the other is the town bully Bob Wood, whom Quincy vanquishes with ease in a fist fight.

The second act of the first scene takes you to the old Crossroads where you meet Abner Stiles the old town character who will keep you in laughter from the time he appears until he makes his exit with his droll and witty sayings. Alice Pettigill the little blind girl whom Quincy falls in love with also makes her appearance in this scene attended by her brother Zeke who's sole aim is to make his sister happy in her sad affliction.

The second scene of this act takes you to the home of Aunt Hepsy a vindictive old lady who has a foster daughter whom she hates because her only son who has died was in love with her foster daughter. Lindy Putnam and left her his fortune. Aunt Hepsy tries hard to keep Lindy from learning her true name but is blocked in this game by Quincy and Arthur Hastings a young city chap and friend of Quincy's who is in love with Lindy.

The third act takes you to the Pettigill home where the big husky bee and the old-fashioned country dance take place and where Zeke and Huldry Mason patch up their differences and they are again as deep in love as before.

In the fourth act you are taken into the interior of the Pettigill homestead where you find Zeke and Huldry enjoying the happiness of married life and where Alice regains her sight through the efforts of an eye specialist who has been engaged by Quincy and after the evening meal a letter is brought in establishing Lindy's birth and her real name and Quincy declares his love for Alice and the entire company join in singing the Doxology and you go home with a feeling that you have spent a very pleasant evening.

Every Wednesday matinee will be Reception Matinee and every one is invited upon the stage to meet and talk with the members of the company. The company will be strengthened by the addition of four new players. Mr. Albert Voss, former leading man with Nancy Rover; R. E. Johnson of New York; Miss Edna Johnson of New York and Miss Mina Wohl of Newark, Ohio.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday matinee and night the Hall Players will present that uproarious farce comedy "The Girl in the Taxi."

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflame the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Mob Frenzy Convicted Frank Who Is Condemned to Death

(Continued from Tuesday.) Conley had no mission at the factory that day, unless his story, told for the first time at the trial, was true, that he was there at Frank's direction, fortified with a bottle of cheap whiskey, to see that nobody entered the factory during Frank's flirtations. Frank was to give a certain signal from the second floor by stamping with his feet, when the front door downstairs was to be locked until such time as he whistled "all right," when the door was to be unlocked.

If Mary Phagan went down the stairway that noon, as Frank declared, then she was in plain view, with her silver meshbag in her hand, of this semi-intoxicated, lustful, improvident, and impecunious negro, who lay concealed all that morning in the shadow of a pile of packing boxes stacked at the foot of the stairway. This entrance was always dark even with a burning gas jet, but on that Saturday it was darker than usual, because of the lowering day without and because, being a holiday, the gas was extinguished. At the foot of the stairway was an elevator shaft which led to the still darker cellar or basement, and alongside of this elevator shaft was also a trap door leading to the basement by means of a ladder—the "hole" referred to in one of the "murder notes." If my theory of this crime is correct, for the negro made the notes in part tell truth, just as he made his main story in part tell truth.

With the finding of the body of Mary Phagan that Sunday morning there began in Atlanta a public delirium, which has hardly yet, after a year and a half, subsided. There has been some sixteen or eighteen women murdered in Atlanta in the previous two or three years, most of them colored women. None of the murderers had been caught. Two white women charged with the murders of their husbands had recently been acquitted by Atlanta juries. Back in 1906 there had been a riot, growing out of assaults and murders of white women in which some fifty negroes had been shot or beaten to death in the streets of Atlanta.

Immediately after the Phagan murder the Mayor of the city called a special meeting of the City Council to consider the murder, and the Council offered a reward of $1,000. The rewards offered aggregated $3,400. The Mayor urged the chief of police to caution his men to keep the crowds moving on the streets and to quickly disperse gatherings where the Phagan tragedy was the topic of discussion.

The newspapers had editorials calling on the police officials to find the murderer or murderers of Mary Phagan, or suffer the political consequences. The Atlanta Constitution said editorially two days after the discovery of Mary Phagan's body:

"The detective force and the entire police authorities of Atlanta are on probation in the detection and arrest of this criminal with proof. To justify the confidence that is placed in them and the relation they are assumed to hold toward law and order, they must locate this arch-murderer. . . . If ever the men who ferret crime and uphold the law in Atlanta are to justify their function, it must be in apprehending the assassin and murderer of Mary Phagan."

Another newspaper expressed the same thought in a cartoon in which the spirit of the community was pictured in a figure pointing dramatically and underneath the words: "Solve it." This newspaper hysteria was but one element in the storm cloud of passion and politics which surrounded the case.

The police, panic-stricken by their own sense of official incompetency, as shown by full-page newspaper accounts of Atlanta murders now recalled that had never been traced and goaded by public clamor and the ridicule by the newspapers of their former failures, sought to appease the public wrath by the immediate arrest of two men, the one who had seen Mary Phagan last alive, and the one who had discovered the body. That at first they believed New Lee guilty is proved by the fact that they got access to New Lee's house, and that on the next day a "blond" shirt belonging to Lee was found by them in a trash barrel in Lee's house. A scientific examination of the shirt disclosed that it had been clumsily smeared. The police finally convinced of Lee's innocence, now centered their attention on Frank and the fact that Frank was a Jew added fuel to the popular indignation of the hour, and culminated in a blaze of racial prejudice which charred all foot-prints of the crime.

"No Jew in modern times," said Colonel Pendleton H. Brewster, a law-partner of Solicitor General Dorsey, who prosecuted Frank, "has been persecuted as this Jew has been."

"Tom" Watson's magazine, the "Jeffersonian," which is published near Atlanta, said:

"Our little girl—ours by the eternal God—has been pursued to a hideous death and bloody grave by this filthy perverted Jew of New York."

When William J. Burns, by the doctored ruse of his Southern manager, Dan Lehan, escaped from the mob about to hang him at Marietta, the former home of Mary Phagan, the leader of the gathering crowd sneered Burns shouting: "Is that you Burns?" Is that William J. Burns the man who sold out to the "Jew" and the "Jeffersonian" justifying the action of the mob, said that Burns "came hoarse-throated, confident and virtually saying that the rich Jews of Atlanta, New York and Chicago would not allow Frank to be hanged."

The Solicitor General then, admittedly paying a tribute to the Jewish race in his argument to the jury, pointed out that "when Becker wished to put to death his utter enemy, it was men of Frank's race he selected." He referred to Abe Hummel, "the lawyer who went to the penitentiary in New York," and Abe Ruef, "who went to the penitentiary in San Francisco."

We have seen how there came forth the stories of "witnesses" from the brothels and dives. A little girl was sent to a reformatory in Cincinnati. The story was circulated that Frank was responsible for her downfall. The police approached another girl who had fallen and endeavored to get her to swear that Frank was responsible for her disgrace. A former forewoman of the pencil factory made affidavit after Frank's conviction that three of the detectives prominent in gathering evidence against Frank sought to have her give certain scandalous testimony against Frank.

Another young woman made affidavit that one of these same detectives tried to get her to tell the same story her married sister afterward did tell at the coroner's inquest regarding Frank. Many people in Atlanta believe that on the walls of Frank's office was an art gallery, of lewd pictures. The only foundation for this story was a business calendar illuminated with a pretty face. These stories convicted Frank in the public mind.

During the time these lies were being published Dr. Marx, the Jewish rabbi, went to the editor of one of Atlanta's newspapers and protested against their publication. At the conclusion of the interview the editor said: "Anyhow, if we don't publish these things the other papers will, and we can't afford to be scooped." The police were diligently at work overlooking no opportunity to fasten guilt on Frank, when an incident occurred which made it impossible for them to retrace their steps.

Frank had employed the Pinkerton Detective Agency to ferret out the murder the Monday following the crime. His motive in doing this, as he stated, was that the public feeling was running so high in Atlanta that the public would naturally expect the pencil company to do everything in its power to help solve the mystery and that this feeling was in accord with his own sentiments. But in this he was fated to misconstruction. Solicitor General Dorsey, on the trial and in his argument before the Supreme Court of Georgia, insisted that Frank had employed the Pinkertons as a blind to cover up his own guilt, and that his employment of the Pinkertons was one of the strongest links in the chain of evidence against him. Like many other innocent moves of Frank and his counsel, made in the cloud of suspicion that surrounded them, the employment of the Pinkertons was unfortunate for Frank.

An ordinance of the city of Atlanta makes city detectives of all private detective operatives and subjects them to police supervision and control. No private detective agency can operate in the city of Atlanta without the consent of the Board of Police Commissioners. The detective agency, therefore, that runs counter to the Police Department of Atlanta forfeits, at the pleasure of the police, its right to do business in that city. This ordinance was one of the factors in the conviction of Frank. L. P. Whitfield, a Pinkerton operative at the time of the investigation into the murder of Mary Phagan, has stated under oath that Harry Scott, the assistant superintendent of the Pinkertons in Atlanta, told him that "unless the Jew is convicted the Pinkerton Detective Agency would have to get out of Atlanta."

When after the trial, William J. Burns undertook a personal investigation of the Frank case at the earnest solicitation of Frank's friends, the police of Atlanta revoked the license of the Burns detectives to do business in Atlanta, and drove that agency out of the state. On the trial of Frank, Harry Scott swore that it was the policy of his agency in criminal cases to work with the police of the various cities. "We never clash over views," said Scott.

It will be remembered that when Mary Phagan left Frank's office, she inquired if the metal for the metal tips had come. Frank had replied "No." The girl would, ordinarily, therefore, have gone on her way. But it was necessary to the theory of the State that Frank and the girl should, for some reason, have gone back to the metal room in the rear of the second floor. How to get the two there was the dilemma. Detective Harry Scott of the Pinkertons swore on the stand at the trial that when Frank interviewed him about Scott's employment in the case he had told Scott that he had replied to the girl "I don't know," although Frank had always declared that he had replied "No" and others heard him. Scott, in his written reports of this conversation both to the attorneys and to the police at the time, as well as in his testimony at the coroner's inquest, stated that Frank said that he had replied "No," but on the trial Scott explained that his "No" meant "I don't know." He said it was a "grammatical" error and this was the man Frank had employed to ferret out the murder. The whole case just drops with such provisos of the truth.

Frank having replied "I don't know," the State argued that he had gone back to the metal room with Mary Phagan to see if the metal had arrived, and there the incidents leading to the murder and the murder itself had occurred.

THE BUTLER FURNACE Solves The Gas Problem

It will burn slack coal as well as other furnaces burn the best.

What are you now spending for coal, coke, slack, wood or gas?

Whatever the sum is, you can cut it in half with a Butler Furnace. THE BUTLER EMITS NO SMOKE—IT BURNS IT. Every cubic inch of smoke that comes from your chimney represents just so much wasted heat energy that you pay for in your fuel bills. Every pound of soot that lodges in your pipes, every shovelful of ashes taken from the clean-out is a total loss. The Butler turns this waste into power. You are now paying for a Butler Furnace by not having one—in the fuel you waste.

The first cost is the only cost of a Butler. There are no fire bowls to crack. No repairs. An extra amount of radiating surface.

The Butler Furnace will last a lifetime. It's the one furnace you want.

We give prompt and careful attention to all inquiries.

Dr. C. F. Legge today received a beautiful card, designed and drawn by his brother, Russell Halcomb Legge who is at the head of the art department of the Matthew Kay-Mann & Co., engravers, of Detroit.
The card is an artistic conception of church. If you desire to put in a pleasant hour's time and be reminded of the visit to grandma's when you were just a child come and be

Belgian Relief Fund.
The Advocate mailed a draft to Henry Clews, treasurer of the Belgian Relief Fund, last Monday making a total of $73 sent to this fund.
A friend has just sent in $1 and W.
M. Shipley of Johnstown has sent a half dollar for this fund and this amount was forwarded to New York by the Advocate today. If additional contributions are received they will be added to the local Community Christmas Tree fund.

A Nice Gift.
Ross Busby, arrested Tuesday evening at 5:45 o'clock for raising a disturbance at his boarding house, 19 Front street, was assessed a fine of $5 and costs for being drunk and was sentenced to the county jail. If he pays the fine he will be released.
Otherwise he will be a guest of Sheriff Slabaugh on Christmas day.

Ask for Release.
One of the prisoners at the city prison has written a plea to Mayor Bigbee, asking for his release that he might spend Christmas at home.
The young man lives at Lancaster; has been employed in Utica, and on last Saturday night he made himself obnoxious at the B. & O. station by using profane language in the presence of waiting passengers which induced a number of women. His offense was such that the mayor feels reluctant to grant his request, but is reserving his final decision on the plea.

Miss Margaret Skiles left for Middletown this morning to spend the holidays with her aunts, Mrs. Walter Branch and Mrs. J. W. Glover.

VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADE WOULD SELL OLD ENGINE

A circular letter was received at the headquarters Wednesday, advertising for sale an old hand-engine and a "caterpillar" mounted four-wheeled hose carriage used by the Cleveland
Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association in years past. The machines are to be disposed of and the funds used in relief work among the thirty-five surviving members of the organization. The letter states that the original engine had 225 men enrolled and that but thirty-five are left. Three have died in the past two weeks. Firemen at headquarters fear that they have an an-tiquique of great age in the old hose-reel which should be the only vehicle of kind in use by a paid fire department.

French Report Recapture of Small Village

BUT ADMITS A "FAIRLY SERIOUS" OUTCOME IN FIGHTING ELSEWHERE

And Inability to Retain Entirely the Positions Which Were Taken Yesterday.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Dec. 23.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official statement as follows:

"Yesterday in Belgium we made slight progress between the sea and the highway from Nieuport to Westende, as well as in the region between Steenstrawe and Blixchoote, where we occupied a forest, some houses and a redoubt.

"To the east of Bethune, working in conjunction with the British army, we recaptured the village of Givenchy les la Basse, which had been lost to us.

"In the region of Arras a heavy fog made it necessary for both the enemy and ourselves to lessen our activities.

"To the east of Amiens on the Aisne, and in Champagne, there have been artillery engagements.

"In the region of Perthes les Hurles we carried, after a spirited cannonade and two assaults, the last section of the line which we occupied in part December 21. We made an average gain of 800 yards. In the last trench which came into our possession we captured a section of machine guns, including the gun crews. A violent counter attack was repulsed.

"We also made progress to the northeast of Beauséjour where further counter attacks on the part of the enemy were without success.

"There has been a perceptible advance on the part of our troops in the forest of La Gruie against a front of trenches 400 yards wide and running not less than 250 yards deep. We blew up with mines two of these German lines of work and occupied the excavations.

"The fighting is going on in the vicinity of Boureuilles with the outcome fairly serious. It would appear not to have been possible to retain entirely the positions acquired yesterday morning.

"There has been no incident from the heights of the Meuse to upper Alsace.

"Russia.—In East Prussia the Germans have been driven back on the line from Neidenburg to Soldau and Lautenburg. In Poland the Germans were successful in getting a footing on the lower Bzura to the north of Sochaczew. Further to the south they reached the Rawka river at Bolimow, and they have passed Skiermiewice moving to the east.

"Austro-German forces are moving into Poland along a front which runs from a point to the southeast of Piotrkow to the west of the river Nida in Galicia. They have reached the river Dunajek and they occupy a line from Grybow to Smigrod to Sanok.

"The effort at a sortie made by the Przemyśl garrison resulted in complete failure."

A SUGGESTION—New silk dresses $5.95 to $12.95—T. L. DAVIES.

Two Messages Announcing Deaths Received In Hour

Mt. Vernon Dec. 23.—Messages announcing two deaths in the family came to Mrs. Elizabeth McBroom within an hour yesterday. The first announced the death of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hazel McBroom at Killbuck. Shortly afterwards came the message that her son, Boyd McBroom, had died suddenly in Chicago. Both bodies will be brought here and there will be a double funeral Thursday.

SLEPT THE WHOLE NIGHT THROUGH

Did the Mother of Ten Children After Trying Nerv-Worth—Had Been Sleepless.

"Stomach trouble, nervousness and sleeplessness have laid heavy burdens on my health and comfort for years. Indeed until I began taking Nerv-Worth I had suffered with nervous troubles all my life. I am the mother of ten children, seven girls and three boys, and my nerves gave out, and although I doctored with many physicians none seemed to do me any good. With Nerv-Worth it was very different. One bottle of that wonderful medicine has given me better rest at night than I have had for years. I do not wake up at intervals as I used to, but sleep the whole night through. Thanks to Nerv-Worth and the Evans Drug store. In three weeks Nerv-Worth has done me more good than anything else. To those who suffer with stomach troubles or nervousness I say with all my heart 'Take Nerv-Worth.'"

This is the written statement made not long ago by Mrs. Ella Varney of 271 North Fourth street, this city. Buy Nerv-Worth at the T. J. Evans drug store. Sold on guarantee, $1.00 a bottle.
